

UR2PhD

Undergraduate Research to PhD Mentoring

The Computing Research Association awards a certificate of completion to:

Skyler Gipson

for their participation in the Fall 2023 UR2PhD Undergraduate Research Methods Course. As part of the first cohort, this awardee demonstrated exceptional potential as a researcher and actively engaged with peers across North America to develop their understanding of computing research. They gained foundational research knowledge while simultaneously engaging in a research project.

The UR2PhD program intends to ensure undergraduate students have access to high quality research experiences in order to encourage them to pursue graduate studies in computing.
